

INVITATION

In difficult times, when our sense of direction and perspective seems to slip away, art can shed strong beams of light on a murky path. Art can rekindle hope.

It succeeds all the more so in doing this when it speaks plainly and directly to fundamental, crucial aspects of life: hardships, determination, hard work, solidarity, patience and perseverance, hope and new beginnings.

This is exactly what Europe and European citizens urgently need nowadays.

All these are among the very themes of the film:

Papadopoulos & Sons

which will have a special screening on Tuesday, 13 November, at 18.00
at the European Parliament (P3C050)

Before the film screening, director Mr. Marcus Markou and actor Mr. Georges Corraface will present the movie.

We would be pleased and honoured by your attendance.

Sincerely yours,

Georgios Koumoutsakos
Member of the European Parliament
