

Terpsichori Greek Dance Circle proudly presents their 14th dance seminar:

Dances of Thrace

with Yorgos Ziogas

on 8-9th November 2014 in Brussels

TEACHER:

Yorgos Ziogas was born in the village of Patayi, Orestiada. He learned his first steps as an autodidact, just like generations before him, on the village square on feasts and dance events.

In 1980 his family moved to Alexandroupoli where he started to dance (and later to teach) in dance groups.

Since 1989 he has been doing research in the villages of Thrace, mainly in the Marides – collecting authentic costumes and learning songs.

In 1990 Yorgos founded his dance group “O Evros” that he has been presiding since.

He has presented his research and collection of songs and customs in many places, including the Megaro Mousikis and the events of Domna Samiou.

After years of thorough research work, he published his first double CD with songs of Thrace in 2002, in collaboration with EL.KE.LA.M, the dance association of Vassilis Dimitropoulos.

Since then, Yorgos and his association “O Evros” published two more CDs, with new and less known songs and dances.

In the numerous seminars he has been teaching at, Yorgos put big emphasis on following the traditions of his ancestors and dancing with the right, authentic style, which certainly contributed to the “de-folklorization” of the dances of Thrace.

It is on Terpsichori’s invitation that Yorgos is coming to Belgium the first time, to present dances of his home country.

CURRICULUM:

The seminar will present known and less known dances of Thrace (some of these have never been presented by other dance teachers before), including dances from the villages Petrotia, Makra Yefira and village groups of Metaxades and Marides. We will also work on the the Koulouriasos and Klostros – this latter is characteristic of the Marides region, where Yorgos grew up.
